Date: 16th June 2023

Venue: Matha Malligai, KTC Nagar

Day 2 began on June 16, 2021, at Matha Maligai. The program is intended for all teaching faculty members. The day commenced with a prayer song performed by Dr. Helina and her team. Dr. J. Sahaya Mary, Assistant Director of IQAC, delivered the welcome address. Rev. Fr. Dr. V. Henry Jerome S.J., the Rector of St. Xavier's Institutions, graced the occasion by acknowledging the XAVERIAN family for securing the 55th position in the NIRF ranking. He then delved into the topic of "Education 5.0: Generation Z Learners," emphasizing the utilization of technology, augmented reality, and virtual reality for interactive learning experiences. Father encouraged the teaching fraternity to adopt Education 5.0 to engage the current generation of learners effectively. Additionally, he underscored the importance of personalized, remote, and customized learning, which are integral components of Education 4.0 and 5.0. Following this, Rev. Fr. Dr. G. Pushparaj

S.J., the Secretary of St. Xavier's College, highlighted the necessity of updating knowledge in alignment with contemporary needs. He proposed the integration of various disciplines to foster a deeper understanding of subjects and advocated for cross-domain learning experiences to facilitate hands-on, real-world applications. The stage was then set for discussions on "Interdisciplinarity," following the revelations by the Secretary.

Rev. Fr. Dr. S. Mariadoss S.J., the Principal of St. Xavier's College, expressed gratitude for the college's achievement in the NIRF ranking and recognized the successful completion of the Bridge Course. He commended the efforts of Dr. Twin Antony Edward, Dr. Veera Lakshmi, and all faculty members of the English department.

Rev. Fr. Dr. S. Mariadoss reiterated the college's commitment to excellence and outlined top priorities for the academic year, including innovation in curriculum, implementation of skill-based programs, restructuring of online courses, increased focus on research, and extension services. He urged the transformation of the college into a student-centric education ecosystem. Afterward, the faculty gathered for Technical Sessions.

Technical Session - I, led by Dr. A. Joseph Dorai Raj, Professor at the School of English and Foreign Languages, Gandhi Gram Rural Institute, focused on "Interdisciplinarity." Dr. Dorai Raj elaborated on the qualities required for a field of study to be considered a discipline and discussed the types of disciplinarity, namely multidisciplinarity, interdisciplinarity, and transdisciplinarity. He addressed the challenges in implementing interdisciplinary programs, such as departmental closeness and limited job opportunities, and proposed solutions to promote interdisciplinary approaches, including the introduction of interdisciplinary papers, encouraging research scholars to enroll in MOOC courses, and organizing joint workshops and conferences.

The second technical session, conducted by Dr. A. Joseph Dorai Raj, centered on "Research Ethics." The session covered themes such as academic integrity, issues in research ethics, and UGC recommendations/regulations for research in India. Dr. Dorai Raj discussed various forms of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism, fabrication, and ghost authorship, and emphasized the importance of upholding ethical standards in research practices.

Technical Session III, conducted by Dr. Mary Magdalene Abraham, highlighted the topic of the ideal conduct of a professor. The etiquette of a professor encompasses a range of professional behaviors and practices that contribute to effective teaching, research, and collegial relationships within the academic community. It includes professionalism, respect, and effective communication. Punctuality, preparedness, and fairness in interactions with students, colleagues, and staff are crucial. Professors should also maintain accessibility, demonstrate commitment to teaching and learning, and uphold research integrity. Cultivating collegiality and fostering a positive academic environment are essential components.

Dr. Mary Magdalene Abraham emphasized that emotional and spiritual learning for professors is a vital aspect of their professional development. This learning focuses on nurturing emotional intelligence, resilience, and a sense of purpose. Practices such as mindfulness, self-reflection, and compassion enhance professors' effectiveness in teaching, research, and mentorship. Integrating these elements into professional development initiatives supports professors' holistic well-being and fulfillment in their academic roles. The day concluded around 4:00 PM.

AI - Tools for Teaching & Learning Programme – (FEB – 04) on 06.05.2024

The faculty members were required to register in the Google Form using the link provided in the invitation, and the total number of faculties who registered was 607.

The program commenced on the Zoom portal with a prayer led by Dr. J. Remy, Coordinator of Computer Science at St. Xavier's College (Autonomous), Palayamkottai. This set a reverent tone for the event.

Following the prayer, Rev. Fr. Dr. S. Mariadoss S.J., Principal of St. Xavier's College (Autonomous), Palayamkottai, extended a warm welcome to all participants and delivered the inaugural address. His words likely set the stage for the significance of the workshop and its potential impact on faculty development. Subsequently, Rev. Fr. Dr. L. Joji Reddy S.J., President of the Xavier Board of Higher Education India and Principal of Loyola Academy, Secunderabad, delivered the presidential address. As a distinguished figure in academia, his address likely provided insights into the broader context of faculty empowerment and the role of such workshops in advancing educational objectives.

The session then transitioned to the main segment, led by the resource person, Dr. A. Vimal Jerald, Assistant Professor of Computer Science. Dr. Jerald provided a comprehensive overview of various cutting-edge tools such as Google Lens, the Arloopa app, ChatGPT 3.5, Gemini, Blackbox Ai, Gamma.app, QuestionWell, quizizz, and Alayna.us. Through live demonstrations, he elucidated how these tools could be effectively utilized in educational contexts, enriching the learning experience for both faculty and students alike. Dr. Jerald's engaging presentation likely fostered a dynamic and interactive environment, encouraging participants to explore and adapt these tools to enhance their teaching methodologies and content delivery strategies.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof. A. Amora, Secretary cum Treasurer of the Xavier Board of Higher Education, Tamil Nadu Chapter, and Dean of UGC Affairs at St. Mary's College (Autonomous), Thoothukudi. In expressing gratitude to all involved, Prof. Amora likely highlighted the collective effort that went into organizing and executing the workshop, acknowledging the contributions of the organizers, speakers, participants, and supporting staff.

The total number of participants in the session was 314, indicating a significant turnout and widespread interest in the workshop's subject matter. This robust attendance underscores the relevance and importance of initiatives aimed at faculty development and the integration of ICT tools in educational practices.

Furthermore, e-certificates were distributed to the participants via email, ensuring recognition of their active participation and engagement throughout the workshop. These certificates serve not only as a token of appreciation but also as a tangible acknowledgment of the knowledge and skills gained during the program, empowering participants to apply their learning in their respective academic endeavors.
